TWO GAMES OF BALL

Clearwater's team of good fellows and fair players came up yesterday and in the afternoon played a game with our boys. The score is given below. This morning another game was played, with the result also given. The Clearwater team is composed of fine fellows and they have among them some good players, but this was an offtime with them. In the game this morning Chester Finch and Sanford Jewett did some splendid work, and in fact all of our men did well, and had they played as well in Gainesville the result would have been vastly different. Persons to the contrary notwithstanding. We are indebted to Ricardo Lopez for the score.

COLORED MASONS OF FLORIDA

Their Great Assemblage and Celebration in Ocala Tuesday

The town was full of colored people yesterday. The crowd was variously estimated at from 3000 to 3500 people.

The railroads brought in most of them, the F. C. & P. 1000, the Plant System 1200 to 1500, while the remainder of the crowd came in private conveyance from this and adjacent counties.

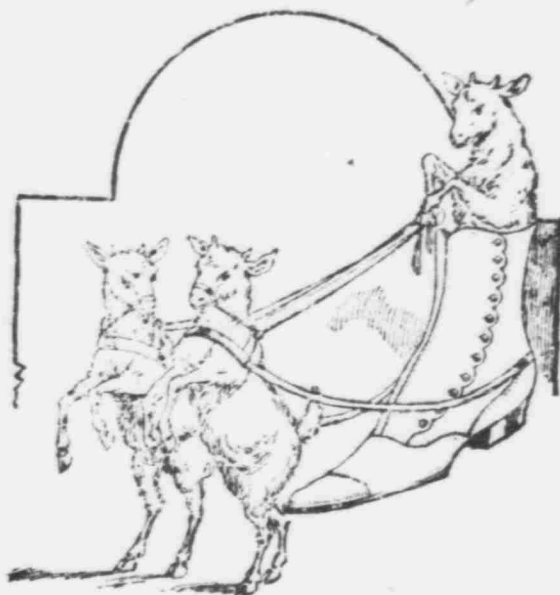

The gathering was brought through the efforts of the leaders in the Masonic order, principally John H. Dickinson, Grand Master of the Masonic order of the state, a large section of which was represented on this memorable occasion, the object being to dedicate a monument to the memory of Rev. Samuel H. Coleman, late Grand Master of the order and who lost his life some eighteen months ago in a railroad wreck near Drifton, Fla.

The excursion train from the north that was due here at 11:10 did not arrive until the afternoon. The lateness of the gatherings caused a late meeting of the order in Marion Opera House and the exercises that were billed to begin at noon did not take place in front of the Ocala House until after four o'clock.

John H. Dickinson was Grand Master and general manager and his aids were O. J. Coleman, Deputy Grand Master, of Madison, and T. L. J. Banks, Grand High Priest, of Jacksonville.

After the procession was brought to the Ocala House, the speakers occupying the porch, invocation was offered and in the absence of Hon. W. K. Zewadski, who was to have delivered the address of welcome, Prof. T. DeS. Tucker, president of the State Normal at Tallahassee, was called on. He was down on the program for an address on the subject: "Should the Negro be Educated and to What Extent?" The gentleman had been indisposed for a few days and did not feel physically able to deliver the address he had prepared, so gave the substance of it, which in tenor was that it was only through the ages had civilization advanced, because leaders in thought and intelligence had arisen to stimulate the masses to greater interest and effort in securing education and as they increased in knowledge, so had they grown in civilization. As it had been with the superior races, so must it be with the negro. Let all who could embrace the advantages of the common schools, and out of these, ambitious youth of both sexes should push on, until they had secured the best intellectual training the higher schools of learning of the land could give them and so prepared to teach and lead others. These men and women should stimulate the masses that their desire for learning should increase ambitions to advance along all lines of attainment and thus uplift and better the condition of their race, who would become better and more useful citizens, aiding by their improved citizenship.
